AUBURN, CALIFORNIA – August 24, 2021

This month, InterMotive Vehicle Controls, a leading manufacturer of electronic control systems, announced that it has built and sold its 500,000th product. InterMotive has established a steadfast reputation for optimizing fleet operations and commercial vehicles with its customizable plug and play products.

The 500,000th product was sold to a long-time valued customer, Forest River Inc. The FlexTech™ product, an electrical load control system, was placed in a special box and hand-delivered to representatives of Forest River in Elkhart, Indiana.

Tracy Weatherfield, VP of Operations at InterMotive, remarks, “Reaching this phenomenal milestone is a testament to the reliability of the products. Our focus on creating quality products to keep vehicles and drivers working safe and efficiently has and will continue to propel our growth.”
